Teaching & Learning

Link to this week's video: What is PBIS?

During the first week of school, teachers across grade levels will be spending time teaching common expectations to students using our school's four core values of being Safe, Kind, Respectful, and Responsible.

In addition to frontloading expectations and then revisiting them often, other cornerstones of our school's proactive behavioral system include that we believe that building positive relationships is critical, all staff play a key role in the overall climate of our school, and that it's important to acknowledge when student's are being Safe, Kind, Respectful, and Responsible.

| Core Values | Elementary Classroom Expectations |
|--------------------|--|
| Safe | Hands, feet, and objects to self |
| | Walking Feet |
| | Use furniture and materials appropriately |
| Respectful | Voice level 1-2 |
| | Active listening |
| | Follow adult directions |
| | Respect other's opinions and choices |
| Responsible | Understand that every learner is different |
| | Be prepared |
| | Clean up after yourself |
| | Do your best |
| Kindness | Ask permission to leave |
| | Kind words and actions |
| | Practice positive self talk |
| | Include Others |
| | Be a helper |
