

Quilcene Weekly Update: 9.26.22

Teaching & Learning

Knowing Your Learning Target

By Connie M. Moss, Susan M. Brookhart, & Beverly A. Long

March 1, 2011

Learning targets, which are concrete goals written in student-friendly language that clearly describe what students will learn and be able to do by the end of a class, project, or unit, are an important part of enabling students to understand what they're expected to learn. However, unless teachers are intentional about explaining learning targets and reinforcing them throughout lessons or units, writing them on the board doesn't do a great deal.

Academic Recognition

STUDENT OF THE WEEK

Quilcene Congratulates

Lila McBride

This certificate is to recognize hard work and perseverance in the classroom for the following actions:

In her 6th grade Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) Class with Mrs. Leonard, Lila prepared an absolutely amazing, well crafted, and highly detailed presentation on Virtual Reality.

Mr. Sean Moss, Principal

9.26.22

Date

Each week we'll be celebrating hard work in the classroom by honoring a middle school and high school Student of the Week. This week's winners are Lila McBride for the middle school and Anna Munn for high school.

Upcoming...

9/26	HS VBall at Crescent @ 5:45 pm
9/27	MS VBall vs Crescent @ 4:00 pm
9/28	MS VBall at Stevens @ 4:00 pm
9/28	Late Start Wednesday • Student Growth Goals in PLCs
9/29	P-5 Meeting at 7:45 am in Ms. Mann's Room
9/29	HS VBall at Sound Christian @ 4:30 pm (JV) & 6:00 pm (V)
9/30	HS Football at Concrete @ 7:00 pm

The process to create the School Improvement Plan (SIP) is beginning soon. Parents and students are highly encouraged to volunteer for this important process. To do so, or for more information, please email Mr. Moss at smoss@qsd48.org.

Homecoming Week is Coming Up 10.10 - 10.14

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Anything but a Backpack Day	Fake an Injury Day	Starry Night! Dress like a star	Adam Sandler Movie Day	Purple &amp; Gold!