5 Strategies to Improve Students' Listening Skills

By Daniel Vollrath, Edutopia

This week's article talks about five real life strategies teachers can use to improve students' listening skills, specifically at the middle school and high school levels (best fit is in parentheses following each strategy):

- Three to Flee (Presentations)
- Bundles, Bullets, and Views (Understanding Directions)
- Scales and Signs (Checking In)
- What is it that you to not understand (General Understanding)
- The Interval Clock (Group Work)

Academic Recognition

Congratulations to this week's Students of the Week, Chloe Frieberg & August Jaber. 6th Grader Chloe is being recognized for her hard work in her MS Humanities Class and 10th Grader August was nominated by Mrs. Beck for his hard work and dedication in his leadership class preparing for homecoming.
