A few weeks ago we featured an article which introduced ChatGPT, which is an artificial intelligence open system. Like any new technology, there are many diverse uses, some of which haven't even been thought of yet.

The article cited above is targeted for teachers, but also good learning for all. In it, the author describes how ChatGPT can be useful for teachers in several categories:

- Planning Instruction
- Handouts and Other Materials
- Differentiation
- Professional Correspondence
- Assessment
- Writing Instruction and Feedback
