

VALUABLE INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE

If you are in high school with a passion for the environment, then one of the internship opportunities may be a great fit for you!

Prepare yourself for a future career, or simply take the opportunity to broaden your knowledge about fish and habitats around the Puget Sound, or what it's like to work at a non profit.

Every summer we have our StreamTeam (paid) internship, where students learn valuable skills for any career related to fisheries, environmental science, biology, and ecology. They get hands-on monitoring experience on several Hood Canal rivers and streams, and the data they collect helps our organization with future habitat restoration and fish research programs. This program is only available to local students!

If you are interested, use the QR code for more information and for the application information. Mrs. Jaber & Ms. Ramey-Dixon have flyers if you are interested.

<https://www.pnwsalmoncenter.org/education/internships/>

 APPLICATION IS DUE: MARCH 29

* In order to be considered for this internship, your application must be complete and mailed as per the "Application Materials" instructions.